

Easton Grays.

THE EASTON GRAYS, as we stated last week, came into town last Wednesday week, the 23d inst., and went into camp, as is their annual custom, for one week. Their camping ground was on the Green below Hull's Tannery, a very pleasant location, and by a little labor could be made a most desirable camping ground. The Grays broke camp and left for Easton last Tuesday afternoon, the 29th inst.

The weather during their encampment has been most favorable, and we think the Grays enjoyed themselves very well.

Our citizens gave them a very flattering reception, and on Monday evening the 28th inst., they had a brilliant hop at the Burnett House.

On taking their leave they were escorted to the Depot by the Beethoven Band and a committee of citizens.

Gen. FRANK REEDER and Maj. HULTICK of his staff reviewed and inspected the company on the 27th inst.

The Company number about 40, including the drum corps, and was under the immediate charge of Capt. FRANK A. SUTZER and his lieutenants, CORNELL and BRINSINGER.

The review and drills called forth universal admiration. The general conduct of the Company marked them as gentlemen, and we hope that the time will not be long distant before they will find it to their pleasure to encamp in our town again.

The following is a list of the officers and men:

HEADQUARTERS EASTON GRAYS
STROUBSBURG, Pa., Aug. 29th, 1876.

WHEREAS, the annual encampment of the Easton Grays at Stroudsburg, ending this day, has been attended by many pleasureers due to the kind and hospitable acts of the citizens.

THEREFORE, be it resolved; that our most hearty thanks are hereby extended to the citizens of Stroudsburg, and the guests of the summer resorts for their generous and enthusiastic treatment of the Grays during the period of the encampment, and we sincerely trust that the acquaintanceships so pleasantly begun and renewed may long remain in kind remembrance.

Resolved; that our thanks be extended to the Beethoven and Stroudsburg Cornet Bands for their generous and complimentary tenders to the company—the strongest proof of our gratitude is in our immediate and thankful acceptance of their most excellent services.

Resolved; that to the Hon. Charlton Burnett, Hon. John B. Storm, Henry Palmer, Esq., and others, the Committee of officers, we gladly return our thankful acknowledgements for their ever continuing kindnesses.

Resolved; That our thanks are due, and we hereby tendered to J. C. Griggs, Esq., for his courteous attentiveness to our wants and his constant efforts to promote our comfort and enjoyment.

The Schuylkill county prison is nearly full of "Mollie Maguires," and the cry is still the same. John J. There are serious charges against both men.

There was a fall in potatoes Saturday at New York from five dollars to two dollars per barrel, consequent upon the arrival of several thousand barrels from Kentucky and western states and the announcement that more were en route. The potato crop in many sections of New York state has been a complete failure from the effects of the drought and bugs.

The bill to punish counterfeiting of trade marks has, contrary to expectation, become a law. It is one of the most severe measures on the statute book. In effect it provides that any person who shall make, order, or in any way procure the fabrication of a counterfeit trade mark, or any colorable imitation of a trade mark, registered in accordance with the laws of the United States, shall be fined not exceeding $1,000 and imprisoned not more than two years, or both. Any abettor to violation of the law is to be fined $500, with imprisonment not exceeding one year.

The road is to be finished so that a train of cars loaded with coal shall reach Boston by the first day of April next."

Ground was broken on Thursday last at Matamoras, Pa., for the Lehigh and Eastern railroad, which is to extend one hundred miles and connect with the Erie railway at Port Jervis, N. Y. The road is to be completed on the 1st of April, 1877.

The Vermont State election will be held a week from to-morrow. The canvass is progressing with unusual interest and activity. A significant feature of the campaign is that the active workers on the Democratic side are nearly all old-time Copperheads, the war Democrats taking, as usual, the back seats. A correspondent of the Springfield Republican, whose affections are about equally divided between Hayes and Tilden, writes that the sneer of the "bloody shirt" during the canvass has been exceedingly damaging to the Democracy, and for this reason:

A number of fine gentlemen of Vermont birth and education have been either murdered or expatriated at the South, for no other reason than the fact that they were intelligent, fearless men, who knew their political rights and those of their fellows, and showed a determination to maintain them. These real victims to Southern terrorism have friends and relatives throughout the State, who can give the lie to all imputations of crime or misbehavior on the part of these gentlemen, whose "bloody shirts" the Democracy attempt to whistle down the fictions of the campaign. The Coshatta massacre destroyed one of the Twitchell brothers and his four brothers-in-law, and the surviving brother is now at Newfane, having survived his recent wounds with the loss of both arms. Captain Dickinson, of the Seventh Vermont, murdered near Tallahassee, Florida, where he had settled after the war, and Captain Fisher of the Fourth Vermont, who was driven from North Carolina, were men of too high character to justify the suspicion that they were other than innocent victims of organized terrorism. The bourbonism of the leaders, the sneering down of the war, and the mud thrown at the "bloody shirt," have all served to fire the Republican heart this year so fiercely that I would not be surprised to see the majority exceed that of 1872.

Samuel Tilden measures five feet two inches in his boots, and weighs 117 pounds in full dress. He has only one eye, and no wife, and one arm is partially paralyzed. He worked hard doctoring sick railroads, and helping Tweed along, and physically there is not much left of him.—EX.

A dispatch from Port Jervis says that considerable excitement prevails along the Delaware River above there among the people in regard to the violation of the fish laws by riparian owners, who persist in putting eel weirs in the river, thereby destroying thousands of young black bass every night. Several weirs have been removed surreptitiously, and it is threatened that if all are not removed by the owners they will be removed in the same manner.

The other day a man took home a book containing several anecdotes showing the power of imagination, and after reading them to his wife, he tenderly said:—"Now, Angelina, you may imagine that you hear me kissing Madama in the other room, and you see how wicked it would be to accuse me of such a thing." "Julius John," she replied in a smooth voice, "if ever I imagine such a thing, you'll need a doctor within fifteen minutes, and I'll send for him, no matter what that book says."

Two men who applied for admission to membership in the Seventh United Presbyterian Church of Pittsburg were refused on the ground of their connection with secret societies. One of them was an Orangeman and Odd Fellow, the other an Orangeman and Good Templar. The question of their reception was afterward referred to the presbytery, which decided, that, according to the standards of the United Presbyterian Church, members of secret societies cannot be admitted to church fellowship.

Amount of bills for 140 claims $ 1,582,269
Amount of bills to refund direct taxes uncollected 2,661,776
Amount of bills to refund cotton tax 68,072,088
Amount of bills to pay for property used and destroyed 150,000,000
Amount of bills to pay for supplies 250,000,000
Total $472,316,133

All of our vast preparations for striking a decisive blow at the Sioux savages are rendered next to worthless by the breaking up of the redskin army into two divisions, one going to Canada and the other moving south among the fastnesses of Wyoming. Indeed, it may be said that the campaign is ended, and in a few weeks our troops will all be in winter quarters on the Yellowstone river. It remains for us to see how many Indians engaged in the recent massacre can be captured at and about the agencies, while our soldiers make incursions into the Indian country to destroy marauding bands. Meantime the new Peace Commission may succeed in bringing the leaders of the Sioux to terms, and peace will be restored until next summer. The cost of all this is heavy; but if bloodshed can be saved by it there will be no complaint, especially as it is held by many that the Indians have not been fairly dealt with under existing treaties.—Inquirer.

The Robbery at General McClellan's Residence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Detectives Van Gerichten and La Rue arrested Katherine Ransley, a young woman, on a charge of having pawned a velvet valued at $600, which, together with other property, had been stolen some three months ago from the residence of General George B. McClellan, at Orange, N. J. The property was traced to the prisoner through the arrest of Catharine Williams on Thursday last.

United Methodism.—The Church North and South Once More a Harmonious Whole.

CAPE MAY, N. J., August 23d, 1876.

The Boards of Commissioners appointed by the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South, whose object was to remove all obstacles to fraternity between the two churches, have been in session at Congress Hall during the past ten days. They concluded their labors this evening, and have issued an address, which is preliminary to a report which will be adjusted, and perfect accord ultimately result. A resolution has been adopted declaring the Church South to be but a branch of the Episcopal Methodist Church. Recommendations are made that all differences respecting the ownership of property be adjusted not on legal grounds, but in a Christian and brotherly manner.

THE MOLLIE MAGUIRES.

Policeman Yost Avenged.

POTTSVILLE, August 28.—The Mollie Maguire prisoners, Munley, McGhan, Corroll, Roarity and Boyle, recently convicted of the murder of Policeman Yost, at Tamaqua, were sentenced to death this morning. With the exception of Munley, who seemed deeply agitated, the prisoners maintained the same air of indifference which characterized their conduct all through the trial.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., August 28.—Judge Dreher to-day overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of Alexander Campbell, and sentenced him to death. This is the third Mollie Maguire convicted and sentenced in this county. The prisoner appeared unconcerned, and shook hands with a number of his friends, who crowded up to the bar of the court. He exclaimed to them, in a loud voice, "I don't give up the ship as long as she sails!" There was no attempt at a disturbance.

The Sheriff sales in Philadelphia, in June, are reported by real estate men to have exceeded, in number of houses disposed of, those of any month since the consolidation of the city. In the summer of 1875, when complaints of dull times were loud and deep, the Sheriff executed 572 writs upon property. But that figure has been increased this summer to 687 in June alone, as many as 800 houses being put under the hammer. There were between 250 and 300 taverns near the Centennial grounds in May; many of these have been closed.—Philadelphia Press.
